I was like the mountain railway where the engeneer was brave he must make the run successful from the cradle to the grave.
Watched the curves, the hills an tunnels never fall und never fail, keep your hands upon the front of and your eyes upon the rail.

Their succsess will be guaranted till he reach that whistle shore and the angies wait to join us in my breakes forever more.

You are on the bridge of Caien in the darkness of the night just keep price to your conductor on this lightening pray of light.
Always mind for lot instructions do your job and never fail keep your hands upon the front of and your eyes upon the rail.
